DESCRIBE THE PRESENT AND ORIGINAL (If known) PHYSICAL APPEARANCE

This commercial brick building is three stories high and two bays wide on the second and third floors and is accented by decorative recessed oblong tripartite panels, iron grillwork, and played brick flat arched lintels with keystones. The street level entrance, similar to its neighbors, has undergone several modifications. Glass material has been recently replaced by aggregate pre-fabricated stone panels. On the upper stories the recessed symmetrical tripartite rectangular windows (seperated by mullions) are double hung with one over one lights. These windows are surmounted by single light transoms. A large cornice with coffers and extra molding is supported by Victorian Brackets and crowns the flat roof.
